

What Goes Around...

Dave is going to town with his girlfriend Jodie. His dad has given him £50 to buy a pair of training shoes. His Dad can't afford it but all Dave is bothered about are his new trainers.

He meets Jodie. They take a short cut to the bus stop through an entry. Jodie is ribbing Dave for taking the money from his Dad. Dave sees two older students from their school clambering over the wall to a local Skip Hire company.

Joey and Shaun approach the two younger people and warn them to remember they've seen nothing. Dave gives them a smart answer and him and Jodie go on their way. Joey and Shaun glare at Dave.

On the bus on the way to town Dave is showing off with the money. Jodie is trying to quieten him down. Dave's waving his £50 about. Suddenly, it's snatched by someone from behind. It's Shaun.

Dave and Jodie have to tag along with the older two in the vain hope that they'll hand the money back over as they don't have any cash of their own.

The four end up at the fair. Dave and Jodie are forced to go on childish rides like the Teacups, much to the amusement of Shaun and Joey. Jodie suggests the police. Dave remains convinced that they'll get the money back soon.

Joey and Shaun, full of popcorn, candy floss and something a little stronger eventually tell Dave and Jodie that the joke's over and they can have the rest of the money back. Shaun tosses Jodie a pound coin and the older lads stagger off together propping each other up as they go.

Jodie is annoyed about with Dave for not doing something sooner. Dave, ever the know all, reveals his masterplan. He drags Jodie to the arcade and puts the money in the big jackpot machine. One BAR drops in...., then another! Dave can hardly contain himself. Then, the third reel comes in and.... It's.... a.... cherry! Dave screams. Jodie screams. She thinks they've won. Dave's face says differently.

As they get off the bus Jodie is still going on at Dave. She tells him he shouldn't have taken the money in the first place and goes on about how embarrassed she was having to ask the Big Issue man for the bus fare home.

They take the short cut through the entry. Jodie sees a police car. Shaun and Joey are in the back. A policeman is speaking to a woman, Jade Skipton, owner of Skipton's Skip Hire. She points to Jodie and Dave.

The woman has CCTV footage of Jodie and Dave, placing them in the area of her company when a robbery took place that morning. All she can see of the thieves are two hooded tops scrambling over her wall. She wants to know if they've seen anything. Both look shocked. Shaun slides his finger across his throat in a menacing manner.

Dave says he's seen nothing. Jodie can contain herself no longer and agrees to be a witness. Jade Skipton is so pleased she gives Jodie a reward of £100. It's not the first time the two have broken into her office. The police say they'll be in touch.

Dave looks worried. Jodie cheers him up by giving him half the money. However, she insists that he gives his share back to his Dad. His protests fall on deaf ears and she he is only silenced by the promise of a slap-up meal at MacDonalds.
